Entryway

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 LANDING ZONE

The surface holds the tray and the folder and nothing else, and keys never ride out of the house in a coat pocket that lives on a hanger.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> As you take your coat off, your hands are already full and already stopped. That is the moment everything in them goes into the tray.

2 COAT AND OUTERWEAR ZONE

Two empty hooks at all times. If there is no empty hook, one coat is in the wrong room.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> On the first morning cold enough that you go looking for gloves, that is the seasonal swap. Do it that morning, standing there, rather than noting it for later.

3 SHOE AND BOOT ZONE

Two pairs per person at the door, soles down, everything else lives somewhere that is not the entryway.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> On the night the bins go out, the boot tray goes out with them and comes back empty.

4 ENTRY CONSOLE OR BENCH

Three items on the top, an empty seat, and every drawer section holding one named category.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> You already open this drawer to put the dog leash back after a walk. While it is open, glance at the top and take it back to three.

5 DOOR, MAT, AND IMMEDIATE FLOOR

Nothing is stored on the floor inside the door's swing, ever, and both mats lie flat inside their taped outline.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Whoever comes home last and locks the door straightens the mat with a foot before turning the key.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Kitchen

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 PRIMARY PREP COUNTER

The clear run stays clear: one board, one knife block or strip, one seasoning within reach, and nothing parked on the work surface overnight.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you press start on the dishwasher, the counter clears.

2 COOKING ZONE

Oil, salt, and your turner within one reach of the burner, no more than six tools in the crock, handles turned in, and a clear landing space beside the stovetop at all times.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Every time you put a pan on to heat.

3 SINK AND DISHWASHING ZONE

Empty sink, dry basin, one brush and one sponge standing, cleaners on one tray with the plumbing visible.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the coffee brews in the morning, the sink gets checked and cleared.

4 UPPER CABINET ZONE

Daily dishes between shoulder and eye height, one category per stack, top shelf reserved for what you use less than monthly.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Every time the clean dishwasher gets emptied.

5 LOWER CABINET AND COOKWARE ZONE

Stacks capped at three, lids racked, heaviest pieces on the cabinet floor, and the two nightly pans at the front.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the pans come off the drying rack.

6 UTENSIL AND UTILITY DRAWERS

One category per drawer, named inside the front edge, blades sheathed, and every drawer closing with one push.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you put the shopping away.

7 REFRIGERATOR AND FREEZER

Raw meat low and sealed, dated containers at eye level, one eat-first bin at the front, and the rear vents clear.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> On the way to write the shopping list, before the grocery run.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Pantry

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 DRY GOODS SHELVES

Staples live in one container style, labeled with the item and the date it was opened, filled front to back with the oldest bag at the front.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you unpack the shopping bags, new stock loads in from behind the open one.

2 CANNED AND JARRED GOODS

Every label faces out, every row holds one category, and the oldest date sits at the front of its row.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you carry the recycling out past the pantry, you face up the can rows on the way.

3 BAKING ZONE

One lift-out baking bin with a washed scoop, leaveners dated on the lid the day they are opened, and allergen flours sealed with a scoop of their own.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you set the oven to preheat, you check the leavener dates while it comes up to temperature.

4 SNACK AND LUNCH ZONE

The open bin at child height holds only pre-approved snacks and is refilled to one marked level, and no container returns to the shelf without its lid on it.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the lunchboxes are emptied at the sink after school, the bin gets filled back to its line before the bags go on their hook.

5 BACKSTOCK AND BULK ZONE

Every pack carries its arrival month, every line has a maximum written on the shelf edge, and stock is always pulled from the front.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you get home from a big shop, you write the month on each pack with the marker that lives on that shelf, before anything gets put away.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Dining Room

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 DINING TABLE

Bare wood plus one centerpiece between meals, and every visiting activity arrives in its own container and leaves with it.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the plates go to the sink after dinner, everything else on the table travels with them.

2 BUFFET OR SIDEBOARD SURFACE

The taped serving run stays bare, three display objects at the far end, and no paper on the wood at any hour.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the day's mail comes through the door, it goes straight past this surface to the chair where you actually open it.

3 BUFFET OR SIDEBOARD STORAGE

A written count card inside the door, linens rolled with their napkins, platters on edge, and the heavy pieces on the bottom shelf.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the tablecloth comes out of the dryer, it is rolled and returned before anything else in that load gets folded.

4 CHINA OR DISPLAY CABINET

A shelf photo inside the door, eight plates at most per stack with felt between, the weight on the bottom shelf, and the cabinet strapped to the wall.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the last guest leaves, the good china is washed and back behind the glass before anyone turns the kitchen light off.

5 BEVERAGE OR COFFEE STATION

One tray, one outlet, use-order left to right, mugs capped at drinkers plus two, and a fill line on the jar.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> While the morning coffee brews, the tray gets wiped and the jar gets topped back to its line.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Living Room

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 SOFA AND SEATING ZONE

Seats hold people, not storage. Throws live folded in one basket, remotes in one tray.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you switch the lamp off for the night, the cushions get squared and the throws go in the basket.

2 COFFEE TABLE

If it does not fit on the tray, it does not live on the table.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the last mug goes to the kitchen at the end of the evening, everything off-tray travels with it.

3 MEDIA CENTER

Every cable is labeled at both ends and every device has clear air on its vents.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the credits roll and you switch the television off, the controllers go back in their bin on the way out of the room.

4 BOOKSHELVES AND DISPLAY

Every shelf keeps a hand's width of empty space, and the unit stays strapped to the wall.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you finish a book, it goes back to its group before you start the next one.

5 SIDE TABLES AND LIGHTING

Four items on the tray, cord clipped to the leg, and nothing swallowable left uncapped.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you plug your phone in for the night, the side table gets cleared back to the tray.

6 FLOOR AND CIRCULATION PATH

The route from door to door stays clear at its full width. The floor is for furniture legs and the rug.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the vacuum comes out, everything still on the floor rides the basket back to where it lives.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Family Room

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 PRIMARY MEDIA ZONE

Each console sits alone on its shelf with its matched controllers and headset, the cable card is taped inside the door, and no vent slot is covered.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the credits roll, before the television goes off.

2 TOY AND PLAY ZONE

Five or six open bins on the lowest shelf, one category each, picture labels on the front face, nothing above shoulder height, and the overflow toys waiting in labeled bins in a closet rather than on this shelf.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the bedtime story is announced.

3 BOARD GAME AND PUZZLE ZONE

Every box on the shelf has passed a piece count with the date on its lid, loose pieces are bagged inside their own box, and the name is readable on the short edge from across the room.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> On game night, counted as it goes back in the box.

4 BLANKET AND COMFORT ZONE

One basket, one throw per regular seat plus one spare, every throw folded to the same rectangle, and no blanket left over a radiator or a heater.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the last lamp goes off for the night.

5 CHARGING AND DEVICE ZONE

One strip on a hard surface, one named slot per device, one labeled bag of spare connectors, no charger plugged in anywhere else in the room, and nothing charging on soft material.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the dishwasher is started for the night.

6 CRAFT AND ACTIVITY ZONE

Four lidded bins labeled by what they make, one project bin out on a clear surface, the glue gun unplugged on its tile, and knives, beads, and solvents above the youngest child's reach.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the table is being set for dinner.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Primary Bedroom

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 BED AND BEDDING ZONE

Two sheet sets for this bed, each folded inside its own pillowcase; a made bed means the agreed pillow count and nothing else on the cover.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you strip the bed to wash the sheets, look underneath it before the clean set goes on.

2 NIGHTSTAND LEFT

Five things or fewer on the top, one book at a time, and a divided drawer where every section has a name.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you reach over to switch off the lamp, that is the moment the top goes back to five.

3 NIGHTSTAND RIGHT

The same item count on both tops, medication in date and closed away, and the drawer contents belonging to whoever sleeps on that side.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the sheets go into the wash, both tops get cleared and wiped in the same pass.

4 DRESSER TOP

One valet tray holds every daily-carry item; if it will not sit in the tray, it does not live on the dresser.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you empty your pockets at the end of the day, the tray takes all of it and the wood stays bare.

5 DRESSER DRAWERS

One category per drawer, folded to stand upright, and a hand's width of free space kept as the fill line.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the laundry basket comes back up to the bedroom, it gets folded into the drawers before you put the empty basket down.

6 PRIMARY CLOSET

One hanger style, grouped by type then shade, two fingers of space between items, and one in one out once the rod is full.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you hang up the first coat of a new season, turn every hanger on the rod backwards and start the count again.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Guest Bedroom

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 GUEST BED AND LINENS

Two complete guest sets, each bundled in its own pillowcase and tagged with the bed size, and one of them always on the bed.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you carry the departing guest's towels to the machine, the sheets come off the bed and go in with them.

2 GUEST NIGHTSTAND

Lamp, two proven cables, tissues, coaster, wifi card. Nothing of the household's inside the drawer.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you make up the bed for an arrival, you switch the lamp on and charge your own phone from both cables before you leave the room.

3 GUEST DRESSER

Top two drawers empty and labeled reserved, lower drawers holding only spare linens for this room's bed, strap fixed to the wall.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you swap your own wardrobe over between seasons, you check the guest drawers are still empty before the swap counts as finished.

4 GUEST CLOSET

Six matching empty hangers past the tape line, a clear floor square for a suitcase, and every household bin lidded, labeled and below head height.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you fetch or return a seasonal bin, you count the six hangers before you close the door.

5 GUEST WELCOME AND WORK SURFACE

Clear desk, marked suitcase footprint, one labeled welcome bin with the ready-state photo inside the lid, and no cord crossing a walking line.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the guest's sheets go into the machine, the welcome bin is restocked and put back before you leave the room.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Kids Bedroom

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 BED AND SLEEP ZONE

One duvet, one pillow, and the animals that fit in two arms in a single trip. The photo inside the wardrobe door says what made looks like.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Bed made while the school bag goes on, every morning, before the bedroom door closes.

2 TOY STORAGE ZONE

Every toy family has one open, photo labeled bin at child height, and the carpet is clear enough to lie down on when the light goes off.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Floor cleared while the bedtime story is being chosen, every night.

3 STUDY DESK

The surface holds the current task, the lamp, the pen cup and one tray, and the tray only holds work that is still live.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Desk cleared to the photo the moment the laptop lid closes at the end of homework.

4 CLOTHING CLOSET

Only clothes that fit today hang on the rod, grouped by type, on one hanger style, at a height the child reaches unaided.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Hangers flipped forward as clothes come off the drying rack and go back on the rod.

5 DRESSER DRAWERS

One category per drawer, file folded upright, quantities set by the wash rhythm, and every drawer closes with a single push.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Clothes folded upright and put straight into the drawer as the laundry comes out of the basket.

6 SCHOOL AND ACTIVITY LAUNCH ZONE

Bag on the hook, shoes underneath, forms in the front pocket, and the five line checklist taped beside the hook at the child's eye level.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Bag packed and hung while the bath is running, every school night.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Nursery

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 CRIB AND SLEEP ZONE

The crib holds a fitted sheet, a sleep sack, and your baby. Nothing else crosses the rail.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when you strip the sheet for the wash

2 CHANGING STATION

Everything you touch during a change is reachable with your feet planted and one hand on your baby.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> at the last change before bed

3 BABY CLOTHING ZONE

One size per drawer, and outgrown clothing never spends a night in the room.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when a snap will not close over the diaper

4 FEEDING STATION

Clean and ready never shares a bin with used and waiting.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when the kitchen light goes off for the night

5 DIAPER AND CARE BACKSTOCK

One size ahead, two packs deep, and nothing heavy stored above the crib.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when the last diaper comes out of an open pack

6 BOOKS AND QUIET PLAY ZONE

Twelve covers facing out and one basket at the rim; everything else waits in the rotation box.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when you switch the lamp off after the bedtime story

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Primary Bathroom

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 VANITY COUNTER

The counter carries one liftable tray and nothing beside it. Anything used less than daily lives behind a door.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

The nightly toothbrush rinse. The tray goes back to the photo before you leave the room.

2 VANITY DRAWERS

Each drawer is divided by routine, every category carries a written count on its label, and nothing stays past its date.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

Laundry day. As you carry towels in, open the top drawer and pull anything empty.

3 UNDER-SINK CABINET

The P-trap and both shut-off valves stay in plain sight, one open bottle per job, backstock capped at two.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

Every hand soap refill. Crouch, check the cabinet floor, then close the doors.

4 MEDICINE CABINET OR WALL STORAGE

Only in-date, correctly labeled, currently needed medicine lives here, grouped by symptom and kept above child reach.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

Every trip home from the pharmacy. The new box goes in, the dates in that bin get read, and the take-back bag goes back with you next time.

5 SHOWER OR TUB

One of each product in use per person, no empties in the caddy, squeegee on its hook, floor grip intact.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

Whoever showers last squeegees the walls and props the door open before drying off.

6 TOILET AREA

The cistern lid stays bare, the toilet cloth is a color used for nothing else, and two reserve rolls is the minimum on hand.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

When you hang the last roll, two more come in from the cupboard on your next trip past.

7 LINEN AND TOWEL STORAGE

Three bath towels per person, folded to one width, columns labeled by type, and nothing put away damp.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

Every laundry fold. Clean towels to the bottom of the column, and in a full column the most worn one becomes a rag.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Guest Bathroom

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 GUEST VANITY COUNTER

The counter holds three things: soap, tissues, hand towel. Anything a visitor brings leaves with them.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you put away fresh towels after laundry, swap the guest hand towel in the same motion.

2 GUEST VANITY STORAGE

Two labeled lift-out bins and a visible toilet paper stack. Nothing loose on the cabinet base, so a leak has somewhere obvious to show.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> You already open this cabinet to get the brush for the weekly bowl clean, so run a hand across the base while you are down there.

3 SHOWER OR TUB

One shampoo, one conditioner, one body wash, all readable and above a third full, over a non-slip tub floor.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you strip the guest bed after a visit, carry out whatever the guest left in the shower on the same trip to the laundry.

4 TOILET AREA

One reserve roll visible from the seat, a dry brush in a dry holder, a lined can, and no ring at the water line.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Trash collection night is liner night in here, and the reserve roll gets checked while you are holding the bag.

5 GUEST LINEN ZONE

Two complete bundles, bath towel plus hand towel plus washcloth in each, and the bath mat folded beneath.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> The guest's departure is the trigger: strip the bed and the bathroom together, wash them together, restock the shelf before you sit down.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Laundry Room

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 WASHER AND DRYER

Both drums empty, washer door ajar, lint screen cleared, before you leave the room.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when the dryer buzzer sounds and you are still standing next to it

2 DETERGENT AND TREATMENT ZONE

One product per job, standing on a tray, with the real dose line marked on the cap.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when a jug runs empty and you are holding it

3 SORTING AND HAMPER ZONE

Every bag is a load, labeled by wash setting, and emptied before it passes half full.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when you undress at the end of the day

4 FOLDING SURFACE

The counter is bare or holding one load, and every basket under it is empty before bed.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when you tip a dry basket out onto the counter

5 HANGING AND AIR-DRY ZONE

The rack is in use or folded flat, never left standing half loaded.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when you open the washer to start the next load

6 UTILITY AND CLEANING ZONE

Nothing leans, nothing stores wet, and every hook has an outline behind it.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> when you clear the lint screen at the end of a wash day

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Home Office

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 PRIMARY DESK

The desk holds the tools of the current task plus one inbox tray, and nothing else stays there overnight.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you close the laptop lid for the day.

2 DESK DRAWERS AND PEDESTAL

One purpose per drawer, every pen in it writes, and the scissors live point-down in a fixed slot.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you sit down to pay the bills.

3 FILE STORAGE

Every folder is named for the question you would ask when looking for it, and the retention card taped inside the drawer decides what stays.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When next year's tax paperwork lands on the desk.

4 BOOKSHELF AND REFERENCE ZONE

Every shelf keeps a hand's width of empty space, and heavy binders and box files never live above head height.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you finish a book or close out a project binder.

5 PRINTER AND SCANNING STATION

Only cartridges matching the printer on the desk are stocked, the paper bin carries a min line, and the top of the machine stays bare.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you take the last sheet out of the paper bin.

6 SUPPLY CABINET

One open plus one spare of anything used monthly, with min and max written on a card at the front of every shelf.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you open the last pack of something.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Garage

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 PRIMARY WORKBENCH

The bench ends every session bare except the vise and the task light.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

When you pull the last plug out of the bench outlet, that is the signal to sweep. The plug leaving the wall, not the clock on your phone.

2 HAND TOOL WALL AND CABINETS

Every hand tool has a drawn outline, and a blank outline means you find that tool before you close up.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

When you carry the toolbox back in from a job, its contents go on the wall before you set the box down on the floor.

3 POWER TOOL AND BATTERY ZONE

No battery sleeps on a charger, and no tool goes back on the shelf with its guard held open.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

When you lock the side door for the night, your route takes you past the charger shelf, and anything still sitting on a charger comes off on the way.

4 AUTOMOTIVE CARE ZONE

Every fluid stands upright on the tray, wears an opened date, and belongs to a car on this driveway.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

When the bonnet is already up for the oil check, that is when the tray gets its look.

5 SPORTS AND RECREATION ZONE

Every bin carries a sport and a person's name, and this season's kit sits at the front of the shelf.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

The first weekend you turn the heating on, the front and back of the shelf trade places.

6 LAWN AND GARDEN TOOL ZONE

Every long tool hangs on its taped strip, and nothing but garden chemicals lives on the latched shelf.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

While the mower is cooling after a cut, that is when the blades get scraped, wiped, and hung.

7 BULK AND OVERHEAD STORAGE

Every overhead bin is labeled to be read from the slab and carries the date it was last opened.

THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN

When a bin comes down, the new date goes on the end of it before it goes back up.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Workshop

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 MAIN WORKBENCH

One project on the bench at a time, and the bench ends every session bare except the vise and the lamp.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you reach up to switch off the task lamp, the bench must already be clear, so the clear down happens before the light goes out.

2 POWER TOOL STORAGE

Every tool rests guarded, unplugged, and stored with the accessories it needs to work.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the shop door gets locked at the end of a session, no charger is left running behind it.

3 FASTENER AND HARDWARE ZONE

One size per compartment, a sample fastener on the front, and a minimum line inside.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you empty your pockets at the end of a job, the loose hardware goes back into its compartment rather than onto the bench.

4 MATERIAL RACK

One offcut bin with a written size floor and a fill line, and nothing stored on the shop floor.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the saw gets unplugged, the offcuts get their verdict.

5 FINISHING AND CHEMICAL ZONE

Original containers, dated lids, incompatibles on separate shelves, and rags in a lidded metal can.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the brush goes under the faucet, the rag goes in the can and the lid goes down.

6 SAFETY AND PPE STATION

A full silhouette board at the door, one labeled set per user plus a visitor set, with dated extinguisher and first aid checks.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When your safety glasses come off your face, they go straight onto their hook, never into a pocket or a drawer.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Mudroom

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 FAMILY HOOK ZONE

One coat, one bag, one hat per named column, and the floor under the hooks stays empty.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you hang up your own coat at the end of the day.

2 BENCH AND TRANSITION SURFACE

The seat is always clear, and the surface never carries more than three things.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you sit down to change your shoes.

3 SHOE AND BOOT STORAGE

Two pairs per person at the door, wet stays on the tray, and the path from the door stays bare.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you step in and take your boots off.

4 PET STATION

Lead, collar and a full bag roll hang together as one kit, and treatments stay behind a closed door above reach.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you hang the lead back up after a walk.

5 SEASONAL OUTDOOR GEAR

Only the current season is within reach, singles get one bag and one season, and every stored bin carries the month it was closed.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> The first morning of the season you reach for gloves and the bin is empty.

6 CLEANING AND UTILITY ZONE

Every tool hangs with its head clear of the floor, nothing goes away wet, and bleach never shares a container with anything else.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you shake out the door mats.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Hall Closet

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 LINEN SHELF ZONE

Three sets per bed, each nested in its own pillowcase, with the size and count written on the shelf edge.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you strip the beds on laundry day, the fresh set comes off this shelf and you read the count as you lift it.

2 CLEANING EQUIPMENT ZONE

Handles hang from the rail with heads clear of the floor, the vacuum parks inside its outline, and nothing goes in wet.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the vacuum is switched off after a clean, it is wrapped, bagged, and back inside the tape before you sit down.

3 CLEANING SUPPLY ZONE

One caddy per room, one open bottle per job, original labels only, and bleach and ammonia kept apart.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the caddy is set back on the shelf after a clean, whatever ran out is written on the list in the same movement.

4 PAPER AND HOUSEHOLD BACKSTOCK

Every bin carries a minimum and maximum on the shelf edge, stock is dated with a marker on arrival, and the oldest pack is pulled first.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you take the last roll or the last pack of bulbs out of a bin, the restock goes on the shopping list on that same trip to the closet.

5 SEASONAL AND GUEST ZONE

Every bin is lidded, labeled with contents and the date it was last closed, photographed inside the lid, and stored clean and dry.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the guest bed is stripped after a visit, the bedding is washed and returned to its own bin before the closet door shuts.

AGREED _____ DATE _____

Stair Landing

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 LANDING SURFACE OR CONSOLE

Three permanent items plus one tray on top, nothing overhanging the stair side, and one stair basket that sleeps empty.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you switch off the landing light at night, the basket goes with you.

2 WALL AND DISPLAY ZONE

Two hanging points and rated hardware on every item, nothing projecting more than a hand's width at shoulder height, and the mirror fixed to a stud or a proper wall anchor.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you wipe the handrail on your weekly pass, press-test the two frames closest to your hand.

3 STAIR AND FLOOR PATH

Bare treads at full width, runner flat and fixed the whole way, handrail clear from newel to newel, and working light at both ends.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you head up to bed, you go with a hand on the rail and nothing left standing on a tread behind you.

Patio or Deck

This is what the room holds to, and the moment that brings it back. Post it where the work happens. When a standard stops being true, the standard is wrong before the household is.

1 OUTDOOR SEATING ZONE

One cushion per seat, all of them in the deck box overnight, and no chair blocking the door swing.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you pick up the last glass at the end of an evening, the cushions ride in on the same trip.

2 GRILL AND OUTDOOR COOKING ZONE

Four tools on the hooks, grease tray emptied on a written count of cooks, and the tank level marked on the collar.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you shut the lid at the end of a cook, scrape the hot grates and look in the tray.

3 OUTDOOR DINING ZONE

Bare table plus umbrella and one weighted tray, umbrella cranked down whenever the table is empty.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Whoever carries the last plate in closes the umbrella on the way past.

4 GARDEN AND PLANT CARE ZONE

Chemicals latched and labeled above the tools, every saucer empty, every pot tagged with what and when.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When you fill the watering can, run your eye down the saucers first.

5 OUTDOOR STORAGE ZONE

Cushions only on top, two labeled totes below, lid closing flat with no pressure.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> When the cushions go in for the night, the latch goes across.

6 SURFACE, RAIL, AND SAFETY ZONE

Nothing stored on the walking route, gaps clear, and a dated tag recording the last rail push and board probe.

> THE RESET HAPPENS WHEN
> Every time you sweep, push the rail at two posts before you put the broom away.
